Why I chose a photography website

Photography has been something that I've recently been very passionate about and is something I'd like to share. Furthermore, given all the images were taken directly from me, it was a very easy choice in picking to do photography as my final website.

Furthermore, I had plenty of options when it comes to content to include as well as plenty of categories to choose from regarding pictures to use. Upon first hearing about the final project on the first week of class, I knew that I had to do a photography website. Not only to show my progress with HTML but to also show my photography skills and work I've done both in the fall and spring semesters.
